

Chapter 1

Development Strategy & Process

Thayer County

About This Report

This Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS) is the first regional economic development plan completed by citizen representatives of Thayer County, Nebraska. As a member of the Southeast Nebraska Development District, Thayer County and its communities are working with the River Country Economic Development District (River Country) to gain formal recognition as a constituent member of River Country.

Thayer County is a component county of the Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) Economic Area 95 (November 2004 definition). This CEDS is the outcome of a county-wide planning process to address the economic issues and potential of Thayer County within the larger surrounding nonmetropolitan region.

Through its CEDS planning process, Thayer County seeks to establish a framework for comprehensive, objective reporting on the state of the Thayer County area and define goals and strategies to coordinate activities in support of its vision within the larger regional economy. This report draws together a wide variety of data indicators to sketch a holistic picture of conditions in Thayer County. And, it will continue this process to identify measurable indicators of county and regional conditions and link these to the development programs instituted for the county itself and those of the River Country Economic Development District.

1. Governance Structure

The County of Thayer, Nebraska operates under an organized county government structure of townships and is governed by a board of supervisors. Thayer County is one of 27 counties among Nebraska's 93 counties with a township government. The balance are organized as commissioner counties that are governed by a board of commissioners.

Thayer County is governed by a Board of Supervisors with three (3) members who are elected to four-year terms. (Table 1.1).

Table 1.1 Thayer County Board of Supervisors - Membership 2006 Dave Bruning Lawrence F. Traudt Bob Werner

Municipalities in Thayer County are organized via instruments of incorporation recorded with the Office of the County Clerk. Eleven incorporated communities are located in the county. The City of Hebron is the largest community and County Seat. The cities of Hebron and Deshler are organized as a "City of the Second Class," a classification for Nebraska municipalities with a population between 801 and 5,000. Both cities are organized as a mayor-council form of government.

The remaining nine communities are organized as under the municipal classification of "Village." These include Alexandria, Belvidere, Bruning, Byron, Carleton, Chester, Davenport, Gilead and Hubbell. Each village is organized as a five member board of trustees form of government. Nebraska's state constitution grants citizens the right to organize and incorporate as a "Village" if their community has a population of 100 to 800.

1.1 CEDS Committee

The Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS) was developed through a public participatory process led by a CEDS Committee authorized by the Thayer County Board of Supervisors.

The CEDS Committee is composed of county residents who, acting in a voluntary capacity, represent diverse populations (gender, age, ancestry) and interests, including educators, small business owners/employees, agricultural interests, corporate firms, health service providers, community representatives (elected and private citizen), professional industrial developers and media interests. (See Table 1.2)

The Thayer County CEDS Committee is constituted of the representatives of both private enterprises and public bodies. These representatives work to promote economic development in the county and area communities and providing local leadership on issues of business, transportation, housing and tourism development.

Working to develop its goals, objectives, and strategies, the CEDS Committee was representative of county-wide stakeholders. (See Table 1.2) Three general work sessions were completed for the purpose of gathering input.

Throughout the CEDS development process, the CEDS Committee brought forward insights from their individual capacities and discussions with other stakeholders. Staff of the Southeast Nebraska Development District gathered this information and used it for the foundation of the final CEDS strategic planning and priority setting effort of the CEDS Committee in September 2006.

2. Strategic Planning Process

The Thayer County CEDS is built upon a vision for the future. This vision has long-range measurable goals and strategies that lead to the achievement of those goals.

The CEDS Committee participated in the plan development process and reviewed information gathered through research activities, compilation of community activities, and strategic planning activities.

The 2006 Thayer County CEDS presents a comprehensive review of regional trends, an inventory of environmental resources and assets, while focusing upon the opportunities and challenges presented by the county's and region's changing economy.

Basic community-based infrastructure and systems, including roads, community facilities, housing, and support services, serve not only local residents and business and industry but also the larger region and visitors. In addition, investments that enhance the economic well-being of county residents, whether by private or public sector entities, also contribute to the region's economy by enhancing regional income and employment opportunities.

2.1 Stakeholders

Recognition of stakeholders in the future prosperity of Thayer County helps identify partners for economic development. As part of their analysis, local leaders can incorporate this information into their assessment of what groups, organizations or representatives they have the opportunity to partner with for development purposes. This assists in their determination if the identified opportunities and challenges are best able to be addressed by local institutions or other entities.

A stakeholder is any person, group or organization that can place a claim on a region's attention, activity, resources, products or services and anybody affected by an area's action has a "stake" in the future of the region. A stake is merely an "interest," something to gain or lose depending on what a region does and how. An interest can be economic, social, sentimental or historical; consequently, stakeholders have needs and expectations that center on a region's ability to provide, produce or preserve something.

A non-exhaustive list of Thayer County's stakeholders would include:

STAKEHOLDERS
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> > The Board of Supervisors of Thayer County as the governing body of Thayer County > Thayer County's municipalities > Local chambers of commerce > Community service providers > Business and economic development entities > Schools, community colleges, and other institutions of higher education > Hospital and other healthcare providers > Thayer County workers > Thayer County's youth > Thayer County's parents > Thayer County's seniors > Enterprises and Industry in Thayer County > Future generations of Thayer County residents > Agriculture operators and service providers > Area Fire Departments and Auxiliary organizations 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> > Households who would like to buy or rent property in Thayer County > Banking and financial institutions > Civic and religious organizations > Thayer County property owners > Elected officials > Jurisdictions receiving sales, income or property taxes > Local, regional, state and federal governmental entities > Southeast Nebraska Development District > Travelers who visit Thayer County for recreation, business, etc. > Nebraska Public Power District > Businesses wanting to enter the local market > Businesses outside the County patronized by Thayer County residents > Businesses outside the County employing residents of Thayer County

2.2 Environmental Scan

Meetings and discussions conducted during the planning process were used to identify key issues, both internal and external constraints and opportunities. This activity provided an environmental scan of issues of concern to private and public entities in Thayer County. Identification of these issues can assist in developing priorities to guide coordinated activities that address Thayer County's competitive advantages and disadvantages.

A summary of the constraints and opportunities identified via these meetings and discussions is provided below.

IDENTIFIED CONSTRAINTS
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✧ Low unemployment rate. ✧ Decreasing population in Thayer County ✧ Awareness of opportunities among area youth ✧ Undeveloped commercial areas ✧ Availability of business support services ✧ Underdeveloped tourism services ✧ Business development financial tools ✧ Value added agriculture (i.e., livestock) secondary impacts ✧ Business regulatory and insurance costs ✧ Housing unit efficiencies and appropriateness ✧ Health services and insurance costs ✧ Rural health care issues ✧ Underemployment ✧ Perceived remoteness of Thayer County ✧ Undeveloped distance learning opportunities 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✧ Aging population ✧ Availability of appropriate housing serving particular market segments (affordable, special need, and executive) ✧ Flight of youth ✧ Low unemployment rate and the perception is creates when recruiting ✧ Competition for available labor supply ✧ Undeveloped transportation corridors ✧ Costly extension of public infrastructure to industrial/commercial areas ✧ School consolidations ✧ Aging business proprietorships ✧ Civic organization involvement ✧ Growing expense of law enforcement ✧ Telephony issues – availability and accessibility ✧ Negative perception of growth

2.3 Strategic Issues

The Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy planning process has included participants representing diverse interests from across Thayer County in order to establish a coordinated local economic development effort within the county and region.

Strategic issues are a response to economic opportunities and adjustment challenges. Identification of strategic issues within the framework of the CEDS process enables local leaders, both private and public, guide economic development efforts in a focused manner that builds upon an understanding of the area's changing economy. These strategic issues are about what Thayer County, as a community and within the region, will do and why, and where, and when, and how, and to or for whom.

The CEDS Committee recognized that many strategic issues could be grouped into common sets of superordinate issues toward which to direct available resources. These issues illuminate broad policy questions and direction setting that will help Thayer County assist efforts to increase employment and income opportunities and serve stakeholders effectively, efficiently, and responsibly.

The CEDS Committee identified strategic issues within Thayer County. Seven superordinate issues emerged and these are presented below.

✧ Population and Health Care

The aging population of the county and the decline in population presents challenges and opportunities for economic activity and services affecting the local quality-of-life.

Stabilization and reversal of the area population is identified as a strategic issue. The provision of income and employment opportunities through coordinated community and business development strategies can work to address this issue.

Thayer County should continue to develop a full continuum of care services available for its residents. This includes institutional services (hospital, long term care, nursing homes, assisted living, and home health care) and private medical practices.

The health care sector is an important economic engine in the county that also is a vital community resource supporting the larger community.

✧ Tourism Development

Thayer County has opportunities for growth in the tourism sector of its economy. It should continue to pursue opportunities and develop initiatives that will enable Thayer County to capitalize on the economic impact of the tourism industry.

Recognizing and realizing opportunities presented by high volume, excellent transportation systems, particularly U.S. Highways 136 and 81, is strategic issue in developing tourism strategies.

Tourism resources include historical, natural resource and farm sector assets. Developing strategies to develop these opportunities will assist future economic development opportunities.

The Big Blue River is an underdeveloped asset across the county. Opportunities for communities and businesses to enhance existing uses and create new uses should be assessed and developed if feasible.

Continued development of Thayer County's thematic tourism strategy employing its Oregon Trail heritage is an identified strategic issue.

✧ Labor Force

A low unemployment rate in Thayer County and surrounding area is a constraint to economic development. Representatives of Thayer County involved in economic development activities have identified opportunities to develop the available labor supply.

Develop recruitment activities informed about the need to complement and build on existing enterprises' skilled work forces to utilize the potential presented by manufacturing cluster synergies.

Partner with existing enterprises to diversify activities to fully exploit existing skilled labor resources and assist these enterprises to achieve opportunities.

Thayer County is a net exporter of manufacturing jobs – many manufacturing jobs are held by commuters into the county. Enticing these workers and families to relocate their residence to Thayer County involves creating an environment attractive to these workers, including housing and employment opportunities for dual income households.

The outmigration of population has affected all aspects of the local economy, including the local labor supply, schools, business activity and civic involvement. Building the skills of existing labor supply is an identified strategy to be developed.

Labor supply programs designed to improve the readiness, skills, or wages of individuals through partnerships with educational and work force agencies.

Labor demand programs designed to address the needs of employers could be coordinated with area employers.

Mitigating and reversing the impact of the “brain drain” is an identified opportunity. This includes educating area youth to recognize local opportunities, developing business succession opportunities, and, increasing awareness of the skills and opportunities in today's manufacturing sector.

✧ Business Infrastructure

Community central business districts hold potential for local and export-based (i.e., tourism) service growth. Developing retail facilities (structures, storefronts, and facade improvements) and retail strategies can benefit community residents and businesses, not only enhancing employment and income opportunities but also quality-of-life amenities.

Recognizing and realizing opportunities presented by high volume, excellent transportation systems, particularly U.S. Highways 136 and 81, is an identified goal for Thayer County. This includes creating public-private partnerships to develop Main Street, industrial, and tourism strategies.

The availability of financial tools to local entities for business development purposes is an identified strategic issue. The expansion of the available economic development financial tools should include at a minimum:

- > Increased funds available in loan pools
 - > Increased flexibility in employment of existing financial tools
 - > Increased availability of financial tools to serve development efforts

Available and accessible high speed internet access services and cellular phone service can benefit every community. These benefits are not available to many areas in Thayer County and addressing these concerns is an identified strategic issue.

✧ Industrial Development

Transportation corridors are prime areas ready for development, especially the U.S. Highway 81 expressway corridor.

Development of new or expanded industrial site facilities is an identified issue. Barriers to development include land assembly and/or purchase, construction of infrastructure systems, and financial resources.

Opportunities to build on existing clusters of industry include the varied value added agriculture operations and facilities.

Development of labor resources is a necessary component of an industrial development program. Building the skills of existing labor supply is an identified strategy to be developed.

Labor supply programs designed to improve the readiness, skills, or wages of individuals through partnerships with educational and work force agencies.

Labor demand programs designed to address the needs of employers could be coordinated with area employers.

The availability of financial tools to local entities for economic development purposes is an identified strategic issue. The expansion of the available economic development financial tools should include at a minimum:

- > Increased funds available in loan pools
- > Increased flexibility in employment of existing financial tools
- > Increased availability of financial tools to serve development efforts

✧ Value Added Agriculture

Value-added agriculture is an important industrial activity in Thayer County and one that offers additional opportunities for area enterprises and residents.

Livestock operations are increasingly facing regulatory issues and concerns about nuisance issues

Development of ethanol and biodiesel production facilities offers both economic development and growth opportunities, including the use or development of downstream or byproduct resources.

Transportation systems serving Thayer County provide excellent opportunities for expanding and developing new value added agriculture industries. Truck and rail transportation readily serves the entire county.

> A cultural/public understanding of the what value-added agriculture entails in terms of benefits and costs (i.e. jobs and income and environmental concerns) to residents.

Residents both new and old are encouraged to develop an understanding of what value added agriculture entails in terms of benefits and costs (i.e. jobs and income and environmental concerns).

✧ Community Infrastructure

Community water and wastewater systems provide quality services to residents in many communities in Thayer County. Smaller communities, however, will increasingly confront the need to update or replace aged water and wastewater systems.

Operation costs of basic community infrastructure is a growing concern for many smaller communities that have experienced declines in population; placing increasing burdens on resident populations that are characterized as elderly and fixed income.

Governmental regulatory requirements for water and wastewater systems are increasingly placing additional operational and design burdens on many communities that are least able to afford activities required by compliance orders.

Opportunities to enhance the quality-of-life in our communities include developing dual use wellness and recreation facilities. Partnerships between public and private entities could strategically employ limited resources.

Underdeveloped natural resources amenities, particularly the Big Blue River, hold great potential for creating and enhancing recreation opportunities and tourism.

School consolidations have closed schools in smaller communities, leaving structures and facilities unused. Residents have responded by identifying the need investigate strategies to reuse these facilities.

Affordable housing opportunity is an identified need throughout the county. Housing development strategies need to be developed to meet the varied needs.

Housing choice for the work force that is appropriate for first time homebuyers, experienced workers, and management is a desired end in all communities. This includes both owner-occupied and rental housing units.

Community housing rehabilitation needs serving residents is an identified need throughout the county.

Public and private partnerships to facilitate the development of life cycle housing serving families and individuals of all ages are an expressed need.

2.4 Vision Statement

The CEDS Committee worked through the planning process and developed a strategic vision to guide economic development efforts toward attainment of identified goals.

Thayer County is a community:

- △ That is characterized by welcoming communities with opportunities for all ages;
- △ That encourages active civic involvement;
- △ That embraces the heritage and natural amenities of the region;
- △ That offers outstanding educational and health services;
- △ Supports housing choice and opportunity; and
- △ That offers employment and business opportunities to all.

Observation and insights gathered through the planning process can be woven together under the unified theme of positioning area businesses and residents to surmount challenges and utilize opportunities to enhance community economic development.

2.5 CEDS Goals

The Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy for Thayer County is framed within six broad based goals. These include:

- <> Promote Local Economic Activity that is Sustainable and Supports Existing Businesses
- <> Retain and Encourage Increased Population Levels in Communities and County
- <> Support Existing Labor Force Competitiveness and Increase the Size of the Labor Force
- <> Strengthen, Promote, and Develop Quality of Life Amenities Serving our Communities
- <> Develop and Improve Infrastructure to Leverage Transportation and Community Systems
- <> Create a Business Friendly Environment Conducive for Investment, Capital Formation, and Capital Access

These six broad goals respond to the analysis of the area's development potential and challenges, as identified through the planning process conducted by the CEDS Committee. Goals are general statements that provide the basis for formulating the policy objectives and serve to guide strategic activities of the CEDS Committee, area officials, and economic development stakeholders.
